

Transcript 1.4: Workers' Walkie-Talkie Discussion

Opening title: INTERCEPTED LOG INC RADIO COMMUNICATION

It's daytime. We see general views of the rainforest as we listen to the walkie-talkie discussion.

RESEARCH TEAM 1:

Come in, Log Inc HQ. This is Research Team 1. Over.

LOG INC HQ:

Go ahead, Research Team 1.

RESEARCH TEAM 1:

We've completed our updates to the surveillance of the area surrounding the Log Inc Compound. We're ready to submit our findings. Over.

LOG INC HQ:

OK, Research Team 1. We will update our maps here at HQ. Proceed.

RESEARCH TEAM 1:

One: The kennel facilities for the guard dogs are due north of the wooden hut and north-west of the large well.

Two: The guards have a new checkpoint south-west of the large well on the east side of the dirt track.

Three: We've discovered a freshwater spring 240 metres due north of the mid-point between the temple ruins and the large well.

Four: The waterfall into the ravine is a quarter of a mile from the stepping stones.

Five: There is a cave due west of the temple ruins and exactly half a mile from the small well.

And finally six: The guards have seen two large crocodiles near the rope bridge.

That completes our report. Over.

LOG INC HQ:

Copy that. We've made the amendments to our maps. Now proceed west – we need you to find the next site for our machines to start cutting and clearing. We must not fall behind schedule! Over and out.
